“Securing Your Global Supply Chain”

September 9th-10th, 2015 - Dallas, Texas

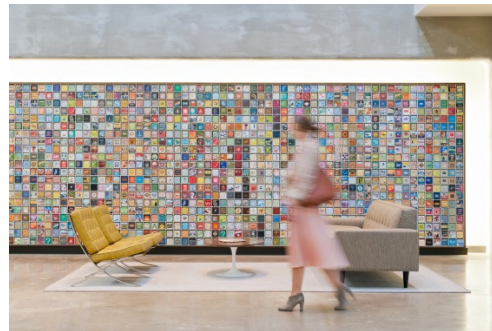

The International Supply Chain Protection Organization would like to announce that registration is now open for its 2015 conference - “Securing Your Global Supply Chain”. The two day cargo theft summit will be addressing topics related to supply chain security, industry theft trends and investigations. There will be a wide range of speakers from both private sector and public law enforcement, speaking on topics that are currently affecting the global supply chain. The event will also provide a great venue to network with global industry peers, law enforcement, and select vendors. ISCP members, transportation/supply chain, asset protection/loss prevention professionals and any other interested parties should consider attending.
