

What Our Members Are Saying

“Given the evolution of the loss prevention industry and increasing complexity, it always makes me feel much more comfortable when I am working with a business partner who realizes how important industry-specific training and knowledge is to our profession. IAI helps me address many of the risks inherent to our industry by providing support and guidance to my team. Seeing others who recognize this benefit from the vendor and business partner side reinforces this message in our industry.

INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION of INTERVIEWERS

WHAT IS THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INTERVIEWERS (IAI)?

In December 2010, the four principals of Wicklander-Zulawski & Associates (WZ), the leader in interviewing and interrogation education and training, met for a strategic planning session about the state of the industry and future planning. During this meeting Doug Wicklander, Dave Zulawski, Shane Sturman and Wayne Hoover discussed the need for a single entity dedicated to serving the comprehensive needs of the interviewing and interrogation community. Doug, Dave, Shane and Wayne decided to be the driving force behind a new association called the International Association of Interviewers (IAI).

IAI has been met with incredible enthusiasm and interest among the interviewing and interrogation community.

Education is no stranger to the founders of Wicklander-Zulawski who have worked to develop a year-round learning experience via Webinars, online training (10 hour course availability) as well as white papers, peer-to-peer forums and alliances with major educational institutions. IAI plans to innovate and continue its educational mandate into the future.
